Hang your head down low,
hang your head down low.
It's so easy to be put to sleep
so hang your head down low.
And I hear they only walk the night,
cuz I know their not color blind.

So hang your head down low.
You know when they come out,
you'll be dancing for your right.
You better meet me under darkness,
it's the moon that's color blind.
I know when they get close,
cuz I only hear two sounds.
It's the breathing and the beating
of a heart that won't be found.

So raise your head,
cuz we're never dead,
we're just stuck in bed.
Raise your head.
