Why don't you come inside
And find a place to rest
The face that once was mine
Could never pass this test

I give it all to you
With no expressions gone to waste
The walls are now closing in
And I'm within no trying to escape, fool

Do what you will, do what you need
'Cause I deserve to realize
What I went through
Will surely change you
Hardest thing I think that I could ever do

The dust is getting thick
And it is hard to breathe
But now I'm feeling sick
I've gone so low I'm underneath

I cannot do it again
Because they will just send me back
I made a mistake and now I pay the price most every single day, fool

Do what you will, do what you need
'Cause I deserve to realize
What I went through will Surely change you
Hardest thing I think that I could ever do

These fences, they strangle me
And it's too long under these sheets
This lesson learned painfully
These demons inside of me [x2]

Do what you will, do what you need
'Cause I deserve to realize
What I went through
Will surely change you
Hardest thing I think that I could ever do

And I'm a fool
