How did you know I've been waiting for this time to come?

And though it tastes like forever it may not stay long

Everywhere is summer, everywhere is summer

Everywhere is summer, everywhere is summer

A shaman since before my birth

And I came down to rock the earth

My mission condition

I give you, you listen

I'm syncing in time in parallel

In binary, no third return

I'm planning intention

With all the redemption

How did you know I've been waiting for this time to come?

And though it tastes like forever it may not stay long

Everywhere is summer, everywhere is summer

Everywhere is summer, everywhere is summer

No pop, no pop, no pop, no pop

We gon' do this thang till the sky just drop

Lock in to ya mind away we rock

In a rocket is the eighty seventh astronaut

Top of the soul, dove and I got in a hole

At the moment they were sayin' it was outa control

Strap in to your mind, why eyes see some recline

You'll see in time your season to shine

When the stadium is dark, MCs are defined

Get ready, on your mark, put your feet on the line

The race is on to space beyond

You gon' get there by doin' what you want

Sometimes the most famous feel all alone

So we drift to a place that we call our home

I was known as being spaced and outta my dome

Now I know, it's all I've known

How did you know I've been waiting for this time to come?
And though it tastes like forever it may not stay long
Everywhere is summer, everywhere is summer
Everywhere is summer, everywhere is summer
