Remember the days we spent near the falling water?
This stranger flew along and fell and he nearly caught ya'

I put my hand in the fire, 'cause you told me to do it Then I realized who I was but you already knew it
And I love you, little baby, but I can't take the silent
pauses
I like the orange glow but not the irritating noises

I'm here to save the world! That's right.

I gave up my super powers so we could be together

But I didn't suit your world then I kissed you so you wouldn't remember
And I love you, little baby, but I can't take the silent
pauses
I like the orange glow but not the irritating noises
And I love you, little baby, but I can't take the silent
pauses
I like the orange glow but not the irritating noises

Irritating, irritating...
