I've got to get into your mind
until I get you back I won't be satisfied I've got to get into your head and I don't want your love I want your soul instead Gave you my everything I gave you all my time never knew that love would bring pain into my life you broke my heart again when you told me lies can't stand to look at you boy you got to tell me why

Why you had to take so much from me
'cause you were taking me for granted (it's my life) it's my life and you were just attracted physically I'm gonna get you back

I've got to get into your mind
until I get you back I won't be satisfied
I've got to get into your head but I don't want your love I want your soul instead

Feels like I'm woken up and now I'm seeing the light you thought I were broken up toss and turing every night all that I want from you is what you took from me now I want everything but boy you got to tell me why Tell me why why you had to take so much for free when I was telling everybody you were mine I guess that's just the way it has to be I'm gonna get you back

I've got to get into your mind
until I get you back I won't be satisfied
I've got to get into your head
but I don't want your love I want your soul instead

I said hey man you know I gotta get into your head you say you think I love you well my friend you've been mislead you see the kind of guy I need is somewhere there for me

I won't do another chasing when somebody's chasing me

Seeing all the girls around you none I never knew the way you keep it stepping I won't step it over you and the term that you miss is not a whole damn love everything you can get will never think about

Boy you got to tell me (why) tell me why
why you had to take so much from me you're taking me for granted (it's my life) it's my life and you were just attracted physically
I'm gonna get you back

I've got to get into your mind
until I get you back I won't be satisfied
I've got to get into your head
but I don't want your love I want your soul instead

I've got to get into your mind
until I get you back I won't be satisfied
I've got to get into your head
but I don't want your love I want your soul instead I've got to get into your mind
until I get you back I won't be satisfied
I've got to get into your head
but I don't want your love I want your soul instead
