For all the things that you ever said
For all the lies that you built up in my head
It's my time for revenge
I cared to try but I don't care anymore
I'm understanding
So I'll leave my bleeding heart for you on your door
What seems to me are the fallacies
From a story that at one time I believed
Will I wake from this dream?

As I fall from grace
These are times I'd like erased
As I fall from grace
You stand by in the corner
While my life fades

I gave you all that I had to give
You took it all
Now I'm standing here alone outside in the cold
There was the train but ya ran away
Ya think ya lost me but you'll always find a way
To destroy my day

As I fall from grace
These are times I'd like erased

You never said you cared
That's all we needed to repair
And broke the ties that time
And it's all over this time

For all the things that you ever said
For all the lies that you built up in my head
It's my time for revenge

As I fall from grace
These are times I'd like erased
As I fall from grace
You stand by in the corner
While my life fades

As I fall from grace

These are times I'd like erased

You never said you cared
That's all we needed to repair
And broke the ties that time
And it's all over this time
