You took me higher than I've ever been
Now that we're strangers, I've come down again Back to the real world, back to the real world, back to the ground
Not high above it, without your loving, now I'm earthbound

Because your love it lifted me above it all Without it, it's leaving me so far to fall I hope you find what you're looking for I never thought there could be anymore

But if you really have to go, you take the high, I'll take the low
But when you leave me don't you know, you leave me

You took me higher than I've ever been

Back to the real world, back to the real world, back to
the ground
Not high above it, up where the love is, now I'm

Because we used to say that we were far away Because our love, it took us to another place
And it's so hard for me to face

But if you really have to go, you take the high, I'll take
the low
If you really have to go, you take the high, I'll take the low
But when you leave me don't you know, you leave me
earthbound
