You see once upon a time not long ago

There was a princess in search of some longer dough

Who had ran into this squire who had all the flows

So the king requested his presence at all the shows

Son had all the hoes, showin they tits a lot

Cause he was less like Lance, more like Mix-A-Lot

In the mix a lot, so they hated like Hamlet

Cause he smoke more trees than the Forest Enchanted

And then got chanted, through the coliseums

And he bought all his kicks from the Coliseum

They would try to see him, but they wasn't quite able

Now he ballin out with the knights at the roundtable

And he get Fresher than that Prince from Bel Air

In that G5 chariot so give me a hell yeah~!

So give me a hell yeah~! HELL YEAH!! I said

[Chorus]

I make a damsel in distress dismantle her dress

So once you take me past the guards I can handle the rest

Got a plan for the stress, in these evil times

So I keep on body armor like it's medieval times

And finally he's arrived in the Benz from Berlin

And they expected him to start trickin like Merlin

Well girlfriend, "I got the Magic Stick"

But I ain't tryin to get what got Magic sick
So I keep a box of shields in my bag of tricks
Cause it's like a battlefield when you baggin chicks
And when I bare my knicks, I'm tryin to rob the hood
And rob it good, the closest thing to Robin Hood
So the V and not the B's, not only the question
But is the only time that you hear me pop the question
Cause I keep 'em second guessin - for trill

[Chorus]

[Consequence]

Pretty little sexy mama
Let me take you to the Bahamas
We can roll up some scarma
Then sit by the sauna
Pretty little sexy mama
Definitely put a dent a dent in my armor
Pretty little sexy mama
Always got me goin through drama, ohhhhhh
