Outside of the world, get so disconnected
I feel like I'm a stranger in my own skin
If I was where you were
It would all be fallin' back into place, yeah

When all that matters has no reason
Too many lights are burnin' out
You always find a way to bring this
Wasted world back into focus
Yeah, it saves me when I feel like I'm fading into you

It all just looks at me
The noise and the confusion
It overcomes the backdrop
Wish you were here

It's everything you say when you're not even talking
You bring me back, yeah, yeah

When all that matters has no reason
Too many lights are burnin' out
You always find a way to bring this
Wasted world back into focus
Yeah, it saves me when I feel like I'm fading into you

'Coz right now I would trade every choice I made
Just to make it back to you, get back to you

When all that matters has no reason
Too many lights are burnin' out
You always find a way to bring this
Wasted world back into focus
Yeah, it saves me when I feel like, fading into you

When all that matters has no reason
Too many lights are burnin' out
You always find a way to bring this
Wasted world back into focus
Yeah, it saves me when I feel like I'm fading into you
I'm fading into you

Outside of the world, get so disconnected

Wish you were here
