"Gone So Quick Tomorrow"

here today but you're gone so quick tomorrow
you roll up the pain and you drink up all your sorrow I don't know if I'm the only one to believe if I'm the only one in this big world to see..
(chorus) I dont know why I can leave you there laying and crying I don't know why sometimes I really dont wan't to

I don't know which way to go from her I'll take the high road but I know it won't take me too far

I don't know which way to go home from here I'll take the low road 'cause I know it will take me home

(Chorus)

Here today but you're gone so quick tomorrow
You roll up the pain and you drink up all your sorrow don't know if I'm the only one to believe
if I'm the only one in this big world to see

I can leave you there laying there crying...
(chorus)
