They say everything that I know
That was just another day, another show
And I said hello
Hello down
Hello
Hello down
And I turn on the tv and it's all so overrated
Every time that I look down
Every time I turn away
People keep staring back at me and thinking I'm ok
Every time I turn away
They say that I'm a walking contradiction but I feel ok
They say that everything is alright
That was just another day, another night
And I said hello
Hello down
Hello
Hello down
And I turn on the radio and it's all so overrated
Every time that I look down
Every time I turn away
People keep staring back at me and thinking I'm ok
Every time I turn away
They say that I'm a walking contradiction but I feel ok
And if you see someone else
Maybe it's time that you had nothing else to hide
And I won't wait for you
To find what you've been looking for inside
Every time I turn away
People keep staring back at me and thinking I'm ok
Every time I turn away
They say that I'm a walking contradiction but I feel ok
