See the light I'm heading for I'm dancing through your eyes stop asking stupid questions and feed me with your lies Get real stop playing raw there's a wire in your mind fire set to my heart my soul is on the line
Set me free
from your agony
set me free
in all my senseless ways shouting out Although it seemed so right broken promises I'm getting tired fearless roaming through the night and all my wishes and my dreams collide Stop asking questions I'll tell you no lies and then I'll show you how the time has learned to fly Of all the senseless things that get in my way there's only one or two that are here to stay Let me out let me out today let me out

please let me show you another way.
