Stop hunting me down
I hear you screaming all over again
I see your dazzling green blood shine there's something I forgot to tell you way back then I never thought you'd say promise me some colours something more than grey promise me to live my life and take away these purple clouds today Turned back in time parched and buried alive guilt spent on hacked life name our time sigh and cry Raw to the core deep down

I'm fighting my war against the crown
I hear you screaming all over again
forget about the things I told you way back then Traitor
Denial
Expectations
Killing me.
