I had a girl her name was Leizah
She had only one desire
To walk the cobbled streets alone
Heading anywhere but home

With Crowley as her close companion
His diaries went hand in hand with
All the men that she has known
She leaves their silver but keeps their gold

So lawyers, doctors please beware
Of that girl with wavy hair
For she will cut you down to size
Reveal the truth behind your disguise

Leizah, just passed by yer
Now your standing empty handed
Leizah, can't despise her
She'll change your look
She'll have you hooked

The city slips as she's arriving
Tongue tied and twisted was her timing
Her eyes are glazed in deep despair
Those crocodile tears they don't care

Don't turn your back cos she'll be gone
Chasing shadows in the sun
All along the dusty road
Where she goes well we'll never know

And every time I think of Leizah
I break down and I start crying
Although she tore me apart
There's still a place for that girl in my heart

Leizah, just passed by yer
Now your standing empty handed
Leizah, can't despise her
She'll change your look
She'll have you hooked
