"Dying Water Walk With Us"

The beast is coming, nothing can stop it it devours and destroys, tracing death has travelled through time always with us invisible and deadly, is a part of us...
A sinister premonition, as in a mirror, you look into your eyes but your eyes don't look back...

The last wave of grey silence killing shadows on cross of blood while my body's walking (screaming) dying water walk with us...
It's like a roar, a divine collision, the earth breaks open, breath vanishes the worst of nightmares the skin that burns, fleeing angels as from themselves...
Through persecution of the being until symbiosis with light the conscience of earth-children is troubled but from their hands only pain...
The human flame isn't lit for long but sun is dry for whoever possesses The weeping mother, the infinity is spent just a desert, a new dwelling place.
The beast is alive, is hungry for slaves, raging murder, crushes onto us or maybe it is us in constant descent it's our journey, its aim, nothing!

"Affoga la furia nelle acque lungo il cammino della decadenza trasformando in omicida il volto del tuo ego accettando la mano di una pallida morte..."
