"In Hands"

Look at her another way
Shes seen too many rainy days
Everyone has gone away
But still she stands

Burn your flag of mockery
Why is it so hard to see
Everyone was meant to be
More than me

And it's all within her reach
And still she stands
Its all within her reach
The world is at her hands

Look at him another way
Youll never know the price he paid
Breathe a breathe and life will fade
And still he stands
Put it off another day
It will never fade away
The sun will set another day
But still he stands

Itll all within his reach
He world is in his plans
Its all within his reach
The world is in his hands

If we can make it through
We will feel it forever
Stand up together
