"Small Town"

Its not the first time that Ive been here but its the last time that Ill end up this way.
Its about that time to make some changes.
Round here no one is evolving.
Were sitting still while the world is revolving.
In case you missed it let me clarify for you.

I find myself sinking in to the small town scenery again. I hope to God that I can make it out alive.

Well catch the first train out of town and find a place that we can settle down. You and me, taking the wrong way home.
Its kind of hard to get ahead in a town thats full of hope and full of debt. In case you missed it let me clarify for you.

Theres got to be much more to life than the day to day routine that Ive followed.
I cant live my life afraid to make the next move
