there's nothing more to you,
than earthly flesh and empty bones, still searchin' for nothing, I'm face down and all alone show Me everything, give Me all you've got, reveal mysteries, and mountains will bow at your name shackles fall to my feet, a thousand pounds lift from my back, scales ripped off my weakened eyes, i run away no looking back tired of the circles ran, i'm sorry that i'm just a man, falling at Your feet again, i stop myself to let You in
