"Paint the Skies"

close your eyes, remember nothing that you've seen, time again, drowning in hostility, paint your skies, and run into that empty scene, spread your wings and lock your hands in unity, unity wipe the sleep from your eyes, dry the tears you have cried, breathe the breaths you have sighed, open doors you deny close your eyes, remember how it used to be, time again, life was taken selfishly, no more lies, turn and face reality, draw your strength, to overcome this tragedy, tragedy

wipe the sleep from your eyes
