You found me such a mess
And still, you took my hand
And held me out of numbness
Became my truest friend

I'd been running looking for a home
But when you saw me out of breath
From running on my own
Is when you kissed me out of death

Now that I'm recovering
I'm so glad for one thing only
I'm so, so glad I let you in Because

Woman
You loved me back to life
You loved me back to life
Your love's that powerful

No one could ever seem to bring me to fall
And God knows they've tried
But you could see through the wall
Even when I tried to hide

And I know it hasn't been easy baby
And I know you hadn't signed up to save me baby
But here we are now, and better off now, in love

I could tell of your pain too
And I'll die trying to love it away
But this much I owe you
If I can say

Woman
You loved me back to life
You loved me back to life
Your love's that powerful

Maybe, now you can tell me you need me
Maybe, now I can be all that for you

Maybe, now we can finally say we do
This ain't no ordinary love
Not when a grown man can say

You loved me back to life
You loved me back to life
Your love's a miracle

I think I'm gonna have to say it again and again and again
I said

Woman
You loved me back to life
You loved me back to life
Your love's that powerful
