

Cornerstone "Sail On Stormy Waters"

Visit "Sail On Stormy Waters" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a shaking of the spirit
There's a stranger in the town
And the words that he has spoken
Said to keep the people down
I tried so hard to reason
But I guess it was in vain
And I know I'll never see your likes again.
I was wandering through my life time
I was lost out in the dark
I've been begging for redemption
And I need it kinda fast
I been crying for my angels
But they won't hear my prayers
Guess I'll never ever see your like again
I walk alone in this world I miss the best days of my life
When we sailed on stormy waters they were the best
days of my life
I walk alone in this world and my tears fall down like
rain
Guess I never, ever see your likes again
I was struck down by an angel
She left me lying here
I've been crying in my whisky
I've been drowning in my beer
Even JT could not save me
I was sinking hard and fast
But I stood up and blasted out the past
I walk alone in this world I miss the best days of my life
When we sailed on stormy waters they were the best
days of my life
I walk alone in this world and my tears fall down like
rain
Guess I never, ever see your likes again

Visit Cornerstone page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.