

Cornerstone "Wounded Land"

Visit "Wounded Land" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a silence you hear when your poor heart stops beating
I remember that sound from the days when I was young
I struggled for peace now I'm too tired to wander
This land that was ours, now I can see that it's gone
I called this land my home.
Why did you come here? Why do you slay?
With love you could have all the answers
We Lost one thousand years
Lived through the Fire and Rain
Lived through the Fear and Shame
Lived through the Hurt and Pain
Now we're lost forever in this Wounded Land
There's a Song from the Easy that you will remember
Write the words down and follow the Eastern Star
You're the Bringer of Death, Destroyer of Worlds
A mother lies weeping for all that she's lost in this world
If I lived one Thousand years
Lost for a thousand years
Lost in the Valley of Tears
Lost but we learn to survive
One day we'll reclaim and heal this Wounded Land
Wounded Land
Wounded Land
Wounded Land
Lost for a thousand years
Lost in the Valley of Tears
Lost but we learn to survive
Now we Rise to take and heal this Wounded Land

Visit Cornerstone page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.