Hospital bound, so you know there will be treatment.
Hey alright, it's too late ot put up a fight.
Hospital gowns, so you know you should be sleepin'
Wide awake, there's some pills that you shouldn't take.

Honest to God, X is always an unknown
I said alright, Y gets buired in the bones.
I said honest to God--if you don't get it off your chest
You don't have to stay around, you don't have to solve for X.

I'm afraid I found it's eternally unequal--
Hey alright, it's too late to put up a fight.
On the way back down, finally a sequel,
Hey alright, in a hospital room tonight.

Is it alright, and your exit's always an unknown
It's hard to hold on too tight, cuz I got buried with your bones.

And I said honest to God, if you don't get it off your chest--
All your reason gone tonight, you don't have to solve
for X.

Hospital bound, so you know there will be treatment
Hey alright, in a hospital room tonight.
Hospital gowns, so you know you should be sleepin'
Wide awake, there's some pills that I shouldn't take.

And I said alright, X is always an unknown--
I tried to hold on too tight but I got buried with the bone.
And I said honest to God, I got to get it off my chest
I don't want to stick around, cuz I don't need this sufferin'.
