Bad weather gathers all along the coast

When the storm clouds gather

And my blood runs cold

If we can't go further

When we get to the shore

Then we have to turn around

And fight some more

We'll go together

I have room in my soul

That's enough of watching people

Trading hearts for gold

I can see you on the beach

On your knees

Spilling more salt in an

Already dead sea

We'll feel the wind and the rain

On our face

You can do it yourself

But I heard of a place

It's got to be now

And it better be together
When spirits make a meeting
You can feel it forever
Bad weather gathers all along the coast
When the storm clouds gather
And my blood runs cold
I can see you on the beach
On your knees
Spilling more salt in an
Already dead sea
Run away with me again
Time for us to grow
Run away with me again
All of us alone
