

Country Joe & The Fish

"Here I Go Again"

Visit "Here I Go Again" on MotoLyrics.com

When dawn comes to touch my purple haze And evening's drowsiness to carry me away I know once again that there is nothing we can save, So I'll pack up my things, I'll be on my way. Yes, here I go again Off down the road again Thinking thoughts of days gone by. Here I am again Singing my songs again Thinking and dreaming Thoughts of you and I. Swirls of giant colors swam madly through my head, I looked around to find you, but I just found him instead. It might have been a dream for all the things we said But you promised me Darling you promised me Yes, and here I go again Off down the road again Thinking thoughts of things gone by. Here I am again Singing my songs again Thinking and dreaming Oh I feel like I could cry. Father's gone to fight the war, He left us here alone. I shiver in the lonesome night Beside the telephone But time brings no word, I guess he's not coming home, It feels like the end, It feels like the end, my friend. Here we go again Off down the road again Thinking thoughts of things gone by. Here I am again Singing my songs again Thinking and dreaming Oh I feel like I could Thinking and dreaming Oh I feel like I could Thinking and dreaming Oh I feel like I could die. Oh, yeah!

Visit Country Joe & The Fish page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.