Can't you feel her pain ?
She needs someone to touch at night alone,
She needs someone to comfort her then.
You caused her agony by taking away
The only thing she ever cared to love,
You tampered with her heart.
Don't believe that you are not the one
To blame for it all, oh,
Cover your hands
Turn your face to the wall,
Can't you remember ?
You can't remember then.

You think you've got it made.
You've got yourself a love
That's more than you ever hoped
That you could have
You can't remember when you walked the streets alone
And darkness plagued your every waking hour of the day.
It's so easy when everything is right
Grooving along with a song
Oh, can't you recall some terror in the night ?
Can't you remember ?
You can't remember then.

It's so nice to have love
It's so nice to have love
It's so nice to have love.

So young and beautiful
They bring a joy to me, a love of life
That I have never known before.
Sweet and innocent
They can't believe, they won't believe
The things that causes their love to die
And if you would like to walk hand in hand
If you'd like to see the sun
Oh, just believe no one will hurt you now.
Can't you remember ?
You can't remember then.

It's so nice to have your love
It's so nice to have your love
It's so nice to have your love.
