Well, I ain't gonna say that I'm the seventh son,
I don't claim to be a spoonful of fun,
But if you want a special friend, just call and I'll come.
I'll turn the forest of night into a park where we can play,
Walk you in flowers and dress you in jade
And then turn back a bad trip and make it yesterday.

I've got a chemical body, an electric brain,
A rebuilt mind on a guaranteed frame,
I can read the truth in the cracks in the walls
And tell your future baby by the way,
By the way that the plaster falls,
By the way the plaster falls,
By the way the plaster falls, oh yeah.

Well, I ain't gonna say that I'm the seventh son,
I don't claim to be a spoonful of fun,
But if you want a special friend, just call and I'll come.

I'll turn the forest of night into a park where we can
