Complacency is not a green pasture
It's a place filled with hate where you live sadly ever after.
Challenge me I'll take you up, I'll be the highest bidder.
Your background don't mean nothing I'm the smallest of the litter.
It's time for all you warriors to stand and be accounted for.
We only fight the battles now, He already won the war.
Break the mask, swallow your pride.
Stand up let your voice be heard
And fight for what you know is right.
Here comes revolution.
Raise up the Resistance.
Now's the time, this is the hour,
Stand up all you warriors and take back the power.
Who says?
Their headless consciences?
Hurry the furry watch them dispense like pez and we won't stop.
We'll never bow down to idols,
Rather die in the name of the Father who is love.
So break the mask, swallow your pride.
Stand up let your voice be heard
And fight for what you know is right.
