I can't take it anymore.
I feel so sad like before like when He opened the door
But we were chained to the floor.
We're gonna take back what we need to get back.
We're gonna be ready when it's time to attack.
We won't be defenseless we've got the spit fire.
Take on society's mass evil desire.
Now they can see that look in our eyes.
Now they can see we won't disguise or compromise.
Nothing can stop us now.
We're gonna rise up and take the enemy masses down.
Take the world by storm.
Now their system's torn.
Take the world by storm.
It just goes on and on and on.
I can't take it anymore.
I feel so sad like before like when He asked us for more
But we chose to ignore.
We're gonna break this habitual standby.
You can't fake this when you feel it deep inside.
We need to read up and educate our minds.
Come closer my brother and leave your hate behind.
If you're weighed down, then call out the praises.
Intercede for others and cover your bases
Cause nothing can stop us now.
We're gonna rise up and take the enemy masses down.
