He stopped & asked the question why I have to bear the pain
Sitting at a table at a cafe down on Main Staring out the window many thoughts filled his head Then an old man with a black book there walked up to him and said

Chorus:

There's something about this Word that will pull you through
No matter what the circumstance is, he's made a way for you Apply it to your life, It will never fail
The letters in this Holy book will prevail

Sitting there in silence, tears running down his face He opened up the Book to read about God's saving grace
Looking up towards Heaven as he began to pray Thanking God for that man that walked up to him that day

Chorus

It's been ten years since that day, since I sat in that cafe
I reminisce what life would be without this Word inside of me.
