Don't make me out to be Stranger
I will always see past your bloodshot eyes
And I can hear the truth and every whisper
Somehow yours bring me back to life

I wanted to tell you
But it's complicated
And all you can say is that it's black and white

It's not that simple
When we walk across those lines
It's not that simple

It's not enough to say
I'm sorry
I've left you in the darkness way too long
I wanna come clean I want to feel good about everything
Thought you should know that we're far too gone

I wanted to tell you
But it's complicated
And all you can say is that it's black and white

It's not that simple
When we walk across those lines
It's not that simple
But it gets me every time

It's not that simple
It's not that simple
But it gets me every time
It gets me every time
It gets me every time
It gets me every time

It's not that simple
When we walk across those lines
It's not that simple
But it gets me every time

It's not that simple
It's not that simple
