"Blue Condition"

Don't take the wrong direction passin' through
Instead of deep reflection of what's true
For it's a combination of judgments made by you
That cause a deep dejection all the way through

No relaxation, no conversation
(Hey)
No variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition

Early risin' every day
You must be enterprisin' in your way
For you will hear no laughter, nor see the sun
Life would be one disaster all the way through

No relaxation, no conversation, no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition

Don't take the wrong direction passin' through
Instead of deep reflection of what's true
(Hey)
For it's a combination of judgments made by you
That cause a deep dejection all the way through

No relaxation
(Hey)
No conversation, no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition

No relaxation, no conversation, no variation
In a very dark blue condition
