Dainties in a jam-jar, parson's colour in the sky.

Water in a fountain doesn't get me very high.

Moby Dick and Albert making out with Captain Bligh.

So you know what you know in your head.

Will you, won't you, do you, don't you know when a head's dead?

What a bringdown!

Winter leader Lou is grownin' 'Ampsteads in the North.

Betty B's been wearin' daisies since the twenty-fourth.

Wears a gunner when there's one more coming forth.

And you know what you know in your head.

Will you, won't you, do you, don't you wanna go to bed?

What a bringdown!

There's a tea-leaf about in the family,

Full of nothin' their fairy tale.

There's a tea-leaf a-floatin' now for Rosalie,

They'll believe in ding-dong bell.

Take a butchers at the dodginesses of old Bill.

Aristotle's orchestra are living on the pill.

One of them gets very very prickly when he's ill.

And you know what you know in your head.

Will you, won't you, do you, don't you wanna make more bread?

What a bringdown!

LAWDY MAMA (traditional)

Wanna go out, baby, to late at night.

Lawdy mama, no need to worry.

Wanna go out, baby, to late at night.

I got a real funny feeling

You're gonna treat your daddy right.

Big-legged woman, come and hold my hand.

Lawdy mama, no need to worry.

Big-legged woman, come and hold my hand.

I got a real funny feeling

You wanna love another man
