

Crikey! My Kneecaps! "Last Breath"

Visit "Last Breath" on MotoLyrics.com

I sit outside my den with leaves beneath my feet Darkness has come, the Shadows devours every corner of this world
Are we meant to reverse everything
That is?
Is it because instead of what if?

Turning red, racing the city
Streets
So I sing to you, and to all that hears this...

Between darkness
And wonder
We shoot each other but that won't do the Trick, that won't do the
Trick

Is our destructive obsession for the better?
And I had such high
Hopes

The repulsive spray of weakness creates an illusion in my eye
We say
Goodbye to summer with a teardrop passing by

Even with mother nature her
Beauty will be put to test
Let the music play, this is my last breath
Our
Home will be put to rest
So let the fucking music play, this is my last Breath

Turning red, racing the city streets
So I sing to you, and to all
That hears this call

To all that hears this call [x4]

As this city falls
Asleep underneath a slowly dying sun

The stars that once lit up these streets
Are covered by a concrete sky
