

Crimson Signs

"My Dark Sorrow"

Visit "My Dark Sorrow" on MotoLyrics.com

I still standing there, with the scars in my face
The nature of evil pushes through another day
People judge me, with looks that kill
Just like the yesterdays, in my childhood maze

Nasty habits, wicked thoughts
Nothing matters, society is the law
No mercy, lot of pain
This is the suffering in life

Set me free, my senses are cold and unreal
A burden so painful to feel
A world so old, a heart so cold
This is my Dark Sorrow
A light so bright, but no hope in sight
This is my Dark Sorrow

I must been betrayed, since the day I was born
No sign of light, in my lonesome misery
Every time I pray, when I struggling through the day
There is no god there, to answer my call

Nasty habits, wicked thoughts
Nothing matters, society is the law
No mercy, lot of pain
This is the suffering in life

Set me free, my senses are cold and unreal
A burden so painful to feel
A world so old, a heart so cold
This is my Dark Sorrow
A light so bright, but no hope in sight
This is my Dark Sorrow

Visit Crimson Signs page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.