VERSE 1: I couldn't sleep last night
My ears were ringing in my head
Best friends with the night
I may be better off lying dead
Running on empty once again
Too tired for tears I dread
Sink deep into those magical dreams
While I lay around in my bed

Chorus: And you know I played it all in here
Where everyone hides their darkest fears
And I through my whole life down the drain
Now that everyone knows that I'm not the same

Verse 2: Three hours later and I'm staring at the ceiling still
This does nothing more to calm my sleeping thrill
Turning the pillows to find a cold spot for my head
All I can do is bless my only friend

Chorus: And you know I played it all in here
Where everyone hides their darkest fears
And I through my whole life down the drain
Now that everyone knows that I'm not the same

Solo

Chorus: And you know I played it all in here
Where everyone hides their darkest fears
And I through my whole life down the drain
Now that everyone knows that I'm not the same
