People who know me
Know I'm the one who cry's his heart out in a song
One thing life's shown me
The only one to blame is you when things all go wrong
See I have been witness myself
He who puts guilt on somebody else
He's a fool

Chorus
Baby I just want you to know
I'm moving on, though ever so slow
It won't be long
He who thinks he can take things in stride
He's not alive
He's a fool

There are things to hold on to
But you must realize that you've got time on your side
With patience come the roses
Just give yourself the chance to see
That things might go right
Though there may be weariness felt
He who try's to be somebody else
He's a fool

Chorus

Who gets taken over by pride
Chooses to hide
He's a fool

Chorus

Who thinks he can take things in stride
Who choose to break down and hide
He's a fool
Who gets taken over by pride
Well it's just to himself that he's lied
He's a fool
