

Crowned King "Farewell"

Visit "Farewell" on MotoLyrics.com

Sometimes I think of what you said
And it's sad but true for you, I think it's gone to your head
Because I'm laughing at my thoughts of you and your way of life
What it amounts to
You may think I'm wrong, but you'll see it's true
I'm leaving this place
There have been changes in my life with no regrets
And , I'll be alright
And if I see you again, I hope that you will have changed too
Because there's more to me than you can see
We all tend to wake up finally
And on the day we earn the right to speak with true integrity
But some of us will never change,
They're living their lives through others' fame
I'll live success, and you'll drown in shame
I'm leaving this place
There have been changes in my life with no regret
And i'll be alright
And if you see me again, I hope that i will have changed too
Because there's more to met han you can see
And more to you than i could ever see
So give up on me
Because there's more to me than you could ever match
You'll see
It's always hard to say goodbye
But in a case like this with not much to miss, I'll be alright
And to those who stayed right by my side
With them i share a special prize
It's us who will unite tonight

Visit Crowned King page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.