I'm growing lost
The story's short
The end seems shorter
Because we've got stages in our lives
And we keep trying harder

It gets rough working through this scene
Almost ruins my goals and my rock-star dreams
The shows are book the papers signed Seems like there's nothing left to do
We're just trying something new

Our calls unanswered the industry of sophistication is too large for us amateurs
Our questions mistaken

I've got my goal and my aspirations
I'm not your average joe, I've got other relations
But it's getting harder to get through Seem like there's nothing left to do
We're just trying something new
