Life on display
Get out of my face
You want to know my every step
Where I've been
It's not your place
Where I rest my head
Who's my foe, who's my friend
If you see me keeping distance
It's because you don't mind your business
If you see me keeping distance
It's because you don't mind your business
I can't escape
The prying eyes
Of the bored who I hate
You can't relate
Don't bother asking
And just be on your way
You can't relate
Don't bother asking
Just be on your fucking way
You can't relate
