Forget your life and all you know
Iâ€™ll see more when all the walls come crashing down White light is your only safety Any other thing might hurt you too much

Every time a liarâ€™s born
There is only one thought and it is murder Anytime anywhere, take your pick Welcomed to the darkened place

Men trade their only born son for life Think thereâ€™s nothing wrong taking a fee Nothing I can do can change the past Can you live without watching? can you?

Why canâ€™t you see?
The cancer grows it spreads it spreads until thereâ€™s
nothing left
Youâ€™ll never know How good I felt when I thought I was free from all of you

There was a time when all I wanted, all I needed was to feel I was the only One, the only one that really mattered And now itâ€™s more like I have time to contemplate and watch the way that I Have taken what I wanted, what I really wanted

Why canâ€™t you see?
How good I felt when I thought I was free from all of you

Why canâ€™t you see?
The cancer grows it spreads it spreads until thereâ€™s
Youâ€™ll never know
How good I felt when I thought I was free from all of you

We all die, we all die
We all die, we all die

We all die, we all die
We all die
There's nothing for us now
We all die, we all die
We all die, we all die
We all die, we all die
We all die!!!

Forget the times you broke your promises went against your word
The way that see the world and see your life and operate here
There ain't no time there ain't nothing there ain't no answers here
Sometimes I ask myself these questions when I lay sleeping
Then again it's for your own good that you really don't know the truth Just know I'm coming on through, I'm coming on through, I'm coming on through,
I'm coming for you.

Why can't you see?
The cancer grows it spreads it spreads until there's
You'll never know How good I felt when I thought I was free from all of you
