Soldiers Lying
Souls are Dying
Don't know where to run,
The only thing they ever knew was the barrel of a gun

It's a holocaust of disfunction,
Living lies of a disruption
It's all over now,
Too many things we won't allow

Don't think I can take it anymore,
Wish i would have just walked out the door

The only place I can go,
Is a place i'll never know

In our hands we hold the key,
Revealing the conspiracy
In our hearts we carry on,
As the day turns into dawn

A perfect day is layed to waste,
A coffin with our souls incased
Broken souls along our path,
As we face the after math
