"Failing Retina"

Visit "Failing Retina" on MotoLyrics.com

Time flies by so fast
Its hard to keep track
Of what's goin on inside of my life
So many things to do
Some days i get confused
And i decide on what matters most

My eyes are open wide but my retina's failing
Cant see beyond distraction the walls can't breath
The pain of losing sight something i can't feel
I never want to be blind to what is real

Time comes to a halt
Keep them from my vaults
Dwelling in the past makes mistakes seem my fault
Ill occupy myself
Looking for what might help
Been busy in florida to stand ignored

Chooses things i seek
Maybe im to weak
I need something more coz my visions lookin bleek
My tensions always sort
Seen my memories leave
Its time to clear my head and put my mind at ease

My eyes are open wide but my retina's failing
Cant see beyond distraction the walls can't breath
The pain of losing sight something i can't feel
I never want to be blind to what is real
