Start off slow. Pick it up. On my way. Wish me luck.
Fingertips. One last touch. Keep me in your lasting thoughts. I wish you were here but the phone will do until tomorrow comes your voice comes through. It's 2am and way to soon to try and say goodbye to you.
Half awake but half asleep. In my bed your voice so sweet. As darkness fills my entire room my mind is filled with thoughts of you. I'm gonna miss all the things that we always did. All the things you always said but now i'm parting ways with you for something that i love to do but I promise no I swear. I won't forget you.
