"Distant Smile"

When love is dead, it's unreal
That's all I feel

But I am a worried man 'cause I ask myself, "Is my horizon clean to see?"

A sudden smile will light my face
A distant sun will rise

If you come back to me, say you need a place to hide

You know a ransom, is the thing that must be found

A distant smile make you push the wheel
It's going 'round and 'round, 'round and 'round

When love is dead, it's unreal
It's all I, I feel

But I am a worried man 'cause I ask myself, "Is my horizon clean to see?"

A sudden smile will light my face
A distant sun will rise

If you come back to me, say you need a place to hide

A distant smile, a distant smile, a distant smile, a distant smile, a distant smile
