One day I woke up sad and wanted to commit suicide.
Once I started writing music is just all cleared.

Too many downers too many uppers
Too many downers too any uppers

I just kept at it , nothing seemed to change until I talked it through with my friends

No more troubles
No more problems

Just getting by and by and by as each day passes .

No more problems that cant be fixed if you just put your mind into it.

Dont get paranoid walking down the street

Just smile and know your complete

No more troubles
no more tiers

Just try and make your self smile and everything will be ok

One day you get through it
