And they come, And they come

See them prancin', they near, they come

A horse nation, see them prancin', and they come

See them prancin', proudly they will come again
The whole world is coming from the wrong directions

Scream and shout
See them prancin', they come near, they come

A horse nation, see them prancin', and they come

See them prancin', proudly they will come again
The whole world is coming from the wrong directions

Scream and shout
See them prancin', they come near

A horse nation, and they come

See them prancin', they come near

A horse nation, and they came

See them prancin', proudly they will come again

The whole world is coming from the wrong directions

Why don't scream and shout?
