Number thirteen I feel like you sometimes like I don't fit in Number thirteen I feel like you sometimes I just don't fit
in Number thirteen on the edge of the world no flash in their house
Number thirteen the odd one out you're not cared you could chill

I need your love I need your love I need your love I need your love
I need your love I need your love I need your love I
need your love

Number thirteen I look in your eyes innocent chimes Like clouds and bad dreams follow you wherever you go Fathers and saints salute you fathers and saints salute you That's no consolation when you're doing time for someone else's crime
