Here we go
Let in the light from my window
Say goodbye to my sorrow
And hello new day

My soul needed a rescue
A hero, it had to be You
I know You've changed everything

So I want everyone to know
Everyone to know
I want to tell the world about Your love

I've thrown years away
And every chance to change
It took so much to see my pride

I've thrown punches in the air
Chased after love that wasn't there
I know only You satisfy

I want everyone to know
Everyone to know
I want to tell the world about Your love

Yeah, I want everyone to know
Everyone to know
I want to tell the world about Your love

To all the brokenhearted
The crippled and the weak
We are all invited to taste and see

To all of those who are searching
Come find what you seek
It is the truth that we all
Truth that we all need

Everyone to know
Everyone to know
I want to tell the world about Your love

Yeah, I want everyone to know
Everyone to know
I want to tell the world about Your love

Yeah, I want everyone to know
Everyone to know
I want to tell the world about Your love

Yeah, I want everyone to know
Everyone to know
I want to tell the world about Your love

I want to tell the world about Your love
I want to tell the world about Your love
