You broke the silence
A break in the clouds
A ray of hope in the darkness

You dusted off the steeples
Places full of fear
Full of never-ending judgment

What is love without much risk?
You were a man of great sorrow
The world that You created
Kept you at a distance
You weren't recognizable

You're the hero
We've been waiting for
You have done the impossible
You're the hero
We've been waiting for
You have done the impossible
The impossible

You bridged the gap
You tore the veil
Almighty God in the flesh

All the plans and schemes
Against Your love would fail
In light of Your obedience

You're the hero
We've been waiting for
You have done the impossible
You're the hero
We've been waiting for
You have done the impossible
The impossible
The impossible
The impossible

A babe cries in the night
The earth shook in awe

The echo of a man's cries
The curse undone
The curse undone
Our hero has won

You're the hero
We've been waiting for
You have done the impossible
(The impossible)
You're the hero
We've been waiting for
You have done the impossible
(The impossible)
You're the hero
We've been waiting for
You have done the impossible
(The impossible)
You're the hero
We've been waiting for
